Flu is killing more people than Covid19, and has been for months

Latest ONS figures show the “pandemic” fatalities have slowed to a trickle, and lockdown has nothing to do with it.

Kit Knightly

A report from the UK's Office of National Statistics (ONS) shows that since at least June 19th, more people in the UK have been dying of influenza than Covid19.

This, of course, is despite the fact that “Covid19 deaths” are incredibly vaguely defined.

Under UK law a person only has to test positive for the Sars-Cov-2 virus at any point in the 28 days prior to their death for “Covid19” to be on their death certificate, a policy which totally ignores the fact the majority of Sars-Cov-2 infections are completely symptomless (and has already resulted in huge over-counts).

Meanwhile boring old influenza is lumbered with having to actually contribute to the death before being added to the death certificate. And nevertheless, for three straight months, the UK has recorded more flu deaths than Covid deaths.

See this graph:

Figure 1: The number of deaths in England and Wales involving COVID-19 decreased for the 19th consecutive week

Number of deaths registered by week, England and Wales, 28 December 2019 to 28 August 2020

“Ah”, some of you may be saying, “this is just evidence that the lockdown, social distancing and masks have worked.”

But that is obviously not the case. Clearly, if these measures did anything to halt viral transmission, the flu deaths would have gone down as well. They have not. They are right in line with the five-year average.

Despite social distancing and wearing masks and hand sanitizer on every corner...the spread of the flu virus has not halted one bit in its usual annual progress through society.

Ergo – the “emergency measures” have little to no impact on viral transmission.

The “novel” coronavirus is still spreading all across the population and is now killing fewer people than normal flu viruses, even though it’s late summer and we’re well past the peak flu season.

Even following the state’s own coronavirus narrative – that every person who dies with the virus is a “covid death”, and that every positive test is actually a “case” and not a false positive – even then the Covid19 story is done. The virus arrived, it hit those with weakened immune systems or who were already seriously ill, and is now moving harmlessly through the population – regardless of whatever draconian controls we put in place to (allegedly) stop it.

Just as many epidemiologists and virologists predicted it would.

Does this mean the lockdown is over? Does this mean we can dump “the new normal” and get back to the old normal, which – though I wasn’t enjoying it much at the time – I now look back on as golden age of calm and reason?

Does this mean the government are going to leave us alone?

In short, no.

Instead, the social controls are getting stricter. The UK has announced that, from Monday the 14th, no social gatherings of more than 6 people will be allowed. There’s talk of a curfew too.

Oh, and those “immunity passports”? You remember, the ones only paranoid conspiracy theorists were ever worried about. Well, they might be bringing those in to. As a purely temporary measure you understand, so people can go to the movies again.

The numbers speak for themselves. The “danger” – such as it ever was – is over. The curve has been flattened, the hospitals protected, the hands well and truly sanitized.

And yet the lockdown is still here, and getting tighter all the time. Maybe, just maybe, it was never about the virus.

Professor Spiegelhalter spoke on BBC Radio 4 this morning about his research (statistics Uni Cambridge). He told us that the risk of death during the peak of this so called pandemic, the risk of death doubled every 6 years, i.e. exponential growth. This struck me as being quite normal and I researched death rates by age and found, surprise that normally the risk of death is also exponential, i.e. doubles approximately every 5 years see <http://www.bandolier.org.uk/booth/Risk/dyingage.html>.

So what does this mean? Well if there was no serious disease, we could label a subset of the population chosen at random with anything and get this same death profile for that labelling. Or in other words people die, older people are more at risk of dying.

But what about the excess deaths during lockdown. Well frightened people. Are more at risk to succumbing to illness, isolated old people are more at risk of dying than if they had the attention and care of their loved ones. Yes, the virus it is real, a very bad cold. I know, I had it. Should we ruin the economy and continue to propagate fear for this? No way. Get off your arses people, contact your MPs protest if you are able and lets try to get some sanity in our democracy.

We know there is a hidden hand directing government.

All talk which does not address who they are, and what their aims are, is pissing in the wind.

If you still do not know, start by educating yourselves on the 'Russian Revolution' and work forwards to the present day.

I'm sure that 'they' WHO orchestrated this must have factored in a level of resistance at some point. That resistance is now gaining some steam. So it now remains to be seen what their next step will be in response. It's a sick pantomime.

Today's Guardian offering of fear “Expert questions drive to get people back into offices in England”

...Comes from, wait for it, Neil Ferguson!

“One of UK's top disease experts” The Graun still believes the discredited Prof is a top expert!

They claim in their dumb funding blurb, “we investigate, interrogate and expose the actions of those in power, without fear” Really? What happened here then?

But none of this, they just report the same tired old rhetoric “flattening the curve”, “hot spots” etc...

<https://www.theguardian.com/world/2020/sep/10/neil-ferguson-expert-questions-drive-to-get-people-back-into-offices-in-england>

Go figure, all his predictions were false, all his assumptions are flawed but the Guardian's rhetoric remains the same.

This is propaganda and faked news.

The data is for influenza and pneumonia deaths. The actual flu numbers are only a fraction of this and aren't even true. The numbers are lumped together and called “flu deaths” to give a perception that there is something a ‘flu vaccine’ could help with. Rather than being useful to expose the neo nazi covid cult these numbers actually cause people to believe in the covid-19 propaganda since if people die from the flu why not corona? ‘The flu’ is infact a seasonal detox and so “the danger” is not over much less reduced by using flu and pneumonia [vaccine marketing] data to assert “Flu is killing more people than Covid19”.

Turns out Australia’s youngest “Covid victim” died of an overdose.

A Victorian government spokeswoman said all deaths in Victoria with a positive coronavirus diagnosis were included in the state’s toll, regardless of whether it was the overarching cause of death. She said this reporting was consistent in all states and territories to ensure the figures were comparable throughout the country.

So once again we see that it is impossible to know how many people really died from the virus.

Jesus Fucking Christ! I have just clicked through dozens of news channels and I may as well have just stayed with one. The same thing over and over: "COVID has changed and continues to change everything and it's going to be even worse than we imagined!" etc. Sometimes it's given a "rebel" spin with, "Those bastards were unprepared" and "I'm really angry about it!"

Oh hang on, here's something different: we are causing the animal populations to decline ...but wait a minute- no, there it is – COVID is part of the same devastating effect of humanity etc. And – here comes the biggie: "We are going to have to restructure the whole universe because of COVID".

Please cut the crap! "We" may be restructuring – but it has fuck all to do with COVID!

Spoke with a friend who teaches mindfulness meditation yesterday. Whilst she admitted that she does not read about current events, and therefore doesn't feel that she can offer an informed opinion, she was quite open to the idea that developments this year are about something other than the virus.

We spoke about the notion that many people have actually enjoyed the time out from the pressures of 'so-called normal life' – to be called 'a hero' for simply staying home and taking free money from the government...it's all quite appealing to a segment of the population. She admitted that the experience had allowed her to focus on meditation and that the taking away of autonomy was a kind of relief: a simplifying of life. We both acknowledged a degree of commonality between monastic life and being in prison. What I don't think people like her and many others realise is that we cannot have any of this without the other, unpleasant aspects of totalitarianism. It is not too conducive to the mindfulness practice when the prison guard comes into your cell uninvited to exercise some random act of brutality upon you, or when you are dragged off to be tortured. When the giant AI UBI system cuts off your access to food and water then the practice and life come to a rather abrupt halt.

What fascinates me is that there is clearly a religious angle to what has unfolded. It is not just a gift by big pharma and the Gates control tech cartel, nor just a wet dream of a '4th industrial revolution' spurting from the organs of WEF weirdos. Even the big finance restructure seems secondary to the sense that humanity itself is being re-ordered, re-patterned into a new social-religious form.

As I hear of Zoom mindfulness retreats where teachers can earn serious big bucks rolling out what seems to me to be a kind of 'soma' version of Buddhism to the placated masses of locked down, atomised consumers, I wonder how this kind of thing might feature more as time goes forward. 'Religion' as I understand it is the politics of spiritual experience. The politics of the mindfulness revolution seem to be a form of woke-ism very much in harmony with the New Normal society. It's all a great opportunity to those I have heard express opinion.

Was it merely another strange co-incidence that the rainbows displayed in every other window, or in unison on the front pages of every newspaper in Spring, segued seamlessly into the rainbows of Pride month?

I would suggest that to understand these events (let alone to try and in any way steer them) we must understand these aspects. Reason, as Kit says, is rather old hat nowadays.

Some light relief from all the nonsense.

This comes from this blog post by Mark:

<https://pieceofmindful.com/2020/09/09/too-good-to-pass-up-a-snitch-has-had-enough>

Here’s a real conversation I had with Pete, a very nice man and clerk at our local liquor store:

Pete: Mark, the boss is coming down hard on us. You gotta wear a mask or I can’t sell to you.

Me: I don’t want to get anyone in trouble. I just don’t wear a mask, anywhere.

Pete: How do you shop at Kings Sooper?

Me: Honestly, they don’t pay any attention. I do go in with a plan, get my stuff and get out, trying to be a moving target.

Pete: Well, if you say you have a condition then I can let you go.

Me; You mean like I am exempt?

Pete: There ya go! [Rings up purchase. I had said the magic word.]

Me: I have seen a doctor, I am exempt.

Pete: Really?

Which only makes you ponder how much time, money and material is being flushed down the drain on this crap.

I was under the impression that flu and pneumonia deaths had been halved when (this still yet to be proven to exist) covid1984 spiked, not sure where I got that information from but the graph clearly shows it has been below the 5 year average this year and no doubt the books were cooked but not by 50%.

Great article, but it will not be headline news where it needs to be, we don't have journalists in our mainstream media outlets, only propagandists who really ought to know better that their lives too are going to be affected, their families will suffer as a result, as much as we need Drs and Nurses to come forward and end this we need the very people who dreamed of becoming a journalist, went to uni, studied hard and worked hard to become the very thing they are not today, we need them to walk out en masse, social media is a reasonable platform for them to show the people they are real journalists and end this insane bollocks of a scandemic.

I do wonder about the msm – well, the print media anyway.

99% of what they print is absolutely on-message.

Yet small chinks of light do appear from time to time. for example, the Mail group continues to publish Peter Hitchens in the Mail on Sunday. The Telegraph has also published one or two questioning articles – nothing too outspoken but highlighting at least some of the things discussed freely on this site. There may well be others.

Now, these could well be controlled opposition.

But perhaps it's something else. I refuse to believe that every single journalist and every single editor on every single newspaper is corrupt and/or fearful. That's thousands of people and the odds are against it.

It seems to me that they are all happy to publish their own particular brand of slanted 'news' in accordance with their own particular agendas. The key words being 'their own'. Perhaps not all of them are happy to be taking orders from whoever is actually running the country these days. I realise I'm potentially appearing to attribute some sort of low-rent altruism where it is perhaps not warranted, but ego and arrogance (on their part) can sometimes achieve positive results when their ability to produce their own slurs is curtailed.

We'll know for sure if and when the public tide turns against the narrative. Logic dictates the print media should follow the money. They have to in order to survive. However, if they are 100% controlled, their output will not change.

In the meantime, I would advise anybody and everybody to avoid all of them like the plague (no pun intended).

Vaccine-derived Polio spreads from Chad to Sudan to Somalia.

Somalia Polio Flash Update: Week 34 2020, Posted Sep 5, 2020

Another case of vaccine-derived poliovirus type 2 (cVDPV2) in Banadir region, the third case in Somalia this year.

The WHO says there are typically many more unreported cases for every confirmed polio patient.

LONDON (AP) Sep 3, 2020 — The World Health Organization says a new polio outbreak in Sudan is linked to an ongoing vaccine-sparked epidemic in Chad — a week after the U.N. health agency declared the African continent free of the wild polio virus.

WHO said two children in Sudan were paralyzed in March and April. Both had been recently vaccinated against polio... it had found 11 additional vaccine-derived polio cases in Sudan...

[WHO said] the virus had also been identified in environmental samples...The highly infectious disease can spread quickly in contaminated water and most often strikes children under 5.

No, nothing to do with Gates. Nothing at all.

” Instead, the social controls are getting stricter. The UK has announced that, from Monday the 14th, no social gatherings of more than 6 people will be allowed. There’s talk of a curfew too.”

This can be considered the anti peaceful demonstration law.

The gatherings all over Europe Last week didn’t break out into riots or bouts of violence. It raised awareness and showed the numbers. The controllers weren’t expecting that and are no doubt regretting that the morons, sorry, i mean police, in the helicopters didn’t have any early xmas presents from Monsanto to drop among the crowd. So the beast took a kick in both the left and right ball.

So this is the retaliation. Spiteful. They’re itching to impose full martial law. But we haven’t had our ‘dope’ yet.

The eugenicists have always assumed superiority of intellect. But, just to make sure, they put a hundred plus years into dumbing potential dissenters down. It worked, but not enough. They see that now. The elite, higher bred academics have been caught pulling off a poorly planned scam that cost billions only to be caught by us plebs in the weaker end of the gene pool.

Proof positive that eugenics is merely a nihilistic extermination and sterilisation programme based on money, power and position that makes Hitler's Nazi party look like amateurs.. They haven't got any science to back it up. They haven't even got the science to find and isolate a virus. But they can apparently make pigs tap dance and monkeys play table tennis with their 'amazing' nano bullshit.

Covid is a ghost. A mechanism that's being hyped up to become a catalysing event that can be looked back on as an emergency that required emergency intervention by the heroes. It's basic psychology. Feed the same BS year after year about resources running out because there's too many people, and too many people can cause damage to the climate / ozone / global warming and we'll be begging for mercy and rescue and they'll have to rescue us because they're all Superman and John Wayne.

Sorry Bill. You and your papa can take your snake oil and inject it where the sun don't shine 😊

From RT about psychological toll on people because of COVID fear mongering and medial hysteria as they became mentally tamed, institutionalized like prisoners.

RT piece entitled: "Covid-19 has given a sense of meaning to those who never found it elsewhere... & they'd rather live under lockdown than give it up"

"...These are the people who have everything to lose if the world suddenly comes to its senses, ditches the lockdowns, puts away the cleaning products, and takes off the masks.

Their most visible representatives may be the shrieking 'Karens' who condemn bare-faced children to death in grocery stores, but for every one of those who makes it onto social media, thousands more sit at home, endlessly wiping down surfaces, the only outward sign of their troubled souls a 'Wear a Mask' tag in their Twitter handle. These people will go to great lengths to avoid a return to the 'old normal', when they were just another (unmasked!) face in the crowd.

The media loves the rule-obeyers – they're the best captive audience a cable network could ask for! – and the government appreciates their willingness to enforce even those dictates that adversely affect their quality of life. So it's up to their loved ones to talk them off the ledge and remind them there is meaning outside following someone else's rules. Their lives, and ours, may depend on it."

yea, the frontlines in COVID war are across our kitchen tables.

That's why they fixed the election via the data (Cummings' speciality) and were allowed to contrive a character assassination of JC based on spurious and unfounded allegations which, to this day, haven't been shown to have any truth in them. Why the accusers have never been called to question says much about democracy.

Corbyn's main goal was to mend an ailing NHS. His bone of contention he invited Johnson to chew over was Johnson's secret meeting about the future of the NHS and the selling out to Trumps friends in the pharma business and Monsanto. Corbyn knows now, you don't argue with Trump. He represents powerful masters. And America of course.

Johnson refused point blank to confirm, deny, or debate it. Maybe they were disussing a big surprise post-Christmas. Something that would reshape medicine, medical care and the future of the lower end of society's access to genuine care. Some kind of pandemic they had planned ..

I was raised Roman Catholic, but it didn't take; by adolescence I had become my present "freethinking", skeptical agnostic self.

I mention this to say that even though it didn't take, for some reason reading about the UK restriction to limiting social gatherings to groups of six made me think of the earliest days of the church, at least as presented in parochial school mythology.

The populace is now being treated like the Roman Empire (until Constantine) treated Christians—oppressed and persecuted as dangerous, malignant renegade heretics.

The credulous, low-information, submissive COVID True Believers are victims too, but the enlightened UK residents who see through the scandemic might want to start clandestinely excavating catacombs.

And you would rather all that nonsense from the Government than use non-peaceful means to stop these criminal charlatans??

There comes a time when you have to ask what levels of control you will tolerate before you give up your peaceful mantras.

Quakers had to ask those questions around the time of Hitler and I am not sure they came up with a very satisfactory answer.

Reasoned arguments only work with those with a conscience, human decency and a sense of fair play.

It would be very hard to state right now that those imposing all the new control mechanisms possess a single one of those redeeming features....

I propose the name Con-19 for that imaginary disease spread by the PTB and their MSM. Con-19 plays the starring role in Shlock and Awe, a Medical Disaster blockbuster. Con-19 is brought to you by AZC Studios, who also produced famed Explosion Disaster blockbuster, Con-911.

Public hygiene alert

You should be alert to government viruses, and adopt hygienic practices to avoid contamination. In particular, be aware of infection tools developed by the Joint Threat Research Intelligence Group (JTRIG) for British intelligence officials. These tools include the ability to:

- Artificially inflate page view counts on websites (SLIPSTREAM)
- Manipulate the results of online polls (UNDERPASS)
- Amplify sanctioned messages on YouTube (GESTATOR)
- Censor video content deemed to be "extremist" (SILVERLORD)
- Find private photographs of targets on Facebook (SPRING BISHOP)
- Spoof any email address and send an email under that identity (CHANGELING).

You can find JTRIG documents here in PDF format: <https://www.google.com/search?client=firefox-b-e&q=behavioural-science-support-for-jtrigs-effects>

More from COVID absurdity-land.

House of vaccination Cards is falling down despite at least $20 billions of governments had out for research alone.

"Stat News reports that the large, Phase 3 study testing a Covid-19 vaccine being developed by AstraZeneca and the University of Oxford at dozens of sites across the U.S. has been put on hold due to a suspected serious adverse reaction in a participant in the United Kingdom."

An easily predicted by many scientists fiasco of vaccine safety after six months of development when average development time for vaccines is 15 years.

The fact is that some ad hoc cooked AZN biochemical compound called vaccine candidate already seriously injured one test subject so far as there was no full disclosure of all results yet. In fact suspending trial is not a gesture of good intend but a way to cover up dangerous experiments. Now only internal review within AZN and Oxford will be conducted with no public disclosures made as AZN Oxford already got license to kill or maim With impunity.

But what is this "Marvelous" AZN vaccine that hugely boosted their stock price ?

Per ABC description it is a TROJAN HORSE VACCINE. What a proper name to describe vaccination deception.

Britain's Oxford University and AstraZeneca are making what scientists call a "viral vector" vaccine but a good analogy is the Trojan horse. The shots are made with a harmless virus – a cold virus that normally infects chimpanzees – that carries the spike protein's genetic material into the body. Once again, the body produces some spike protein and primes the immune system, but it, too, is a fairly new [effectively untested] technology. Two possible competitors are made with different human [common] cold viruses.

Please read carefully what they imply, namely that mild common cold coronavirus has the same cell receptor binding spike proteins as SC2 and if so SC2 spikes can be supposedly blocked from bonding to human cell by antibodies developed by exposure to common cold.

So.. why won't we all just kiss and hug strangers on the street tell them we love them and .., get common cold as soon as cold season starts. Our children already get their cold and consequently immunity via TCell infection resistance and hence may forget SC2 vaccination. Such approach would bring more health and joy with a occasional running nose as a side effect to the mentally terrorized with COVID fear-porn people.

The SC2 coronavirus If exists as a public threat seems more and more like a any of common cold, for which vaccines ended up in disaster despite four decades of research and clinical trials.

Just a technical note: basically AZN VV and Moderna mRNA vaccine do not deal with SC2 viral RNA at all but with blocking spike proteins only, so if theoretically alleged virus infects human cell, vaccines do nothing to prevent virus reproduction nor they act to neutralize virus itself but only to block bonding which is common task of TCells searching for non-human DNA, proteins, break it down or kill it (disrupt metabolism) if alive.

The Inevitable theoretical result of those vaccines is lingering viral RNA debris possibly creating additional false positives on PCR tests where there is no active viral infection present, making Commercial vaccines look as they do not work at all.

That issue was addressed by recent shocking NYT article, after 6 months of swearing near perfect accuracy of PCR, stating that actually PCR is way too sensitive and may produce massive false positives related not to present infection but to existing inert viral load in human organism or shedding viral debris among healthy and/or recovered COVID patients.

So in March we suppose to believe all PCR tests like a bible and now we suppose disregard PCR results if recipient of vaccine tests positive.

COVID Deception has no end.

By using a common coronavirus and the spike protein vector they are actually creating a hybrid monster.

There is no virus circulating. It's only in the vaccine. It's never existed outside a lab.

Nothing they are claiming is legitimate. The mRNA will rewrite our DNA causing protein misfolding, disease and death.

The vaccine is basically a death sentence.

I'd be very surprised if they were giving any of the phase 3 trial subjects the vaccine. There's nothing legitimate about their research or these trials.

Psychology is everything, when groups of like-minded Humans are involved, yet it is a fallacy of the individual mind to deny this truth with respect to the individual considering it. "I'm a free thinking person, and I make up my own mind" says every mind controlled s-cker.

Organised religion- used to first motivate our intelligent ape species to wipe out all the other intelligent apes species on the planet (in the period before 'recorded' History)- exploits this mechanism. We laugh when we westerners see it visible in tribal ritual in Africa, and yet we westerners are subject to the same at a deeper and far more dangerous level.

The plague false flag is going to have more significance than the call to arms against the other 'talking apes' thousands of years back. Becoming the only talking species was the first GREAT RESET. Today we are witnessing the second, as we move rapidly to the elimination of 95% of the Human population. Sadly even those who believe in and are serving the Great Rest do not know the true intent of their demon masters- namely the elimination of all higher thinking in the Universe. True evil is anti self-aware life in the Universe, and acts to eliminate it – to return the Universe to its pure clockwork status. True evil is the clockwork Universe 'antibody' system.

The quite little voice in your head telling you to "jump' when you stand close to a sheer cliff edge.

Most Humans do not, and do not want to think at a higher level- they want other Humans to do that thinking for them. Alphas are the high lever thinkers, and other Humans choose to disassociate from the alphas. It has always been thus- but means that Human History tends to be a 'game of alphas'. When 'good' alphas allow themselves to be suppressed, evil alphas reign over history, and they do the bidding of their demon controllers- unwittingly or joyfully.

The plague false flag rallies every method in a determined attempt to win all the marbles. And the Blair, Gates, Soros et al team (all of whom have proudly declared their fabian flavour) control assets and resources unlike anything ever previously possible. Icke and Coleman name the devil, but most sites like this one are the weakest of sauce even if well meant. Can you tell us about what or who comprises the higher thinking in the Universe ?
What is 'anti self – aware' ?

"True evil is the clockwork Universe 'antibody' system."

1. people with higher awareness who can see what's really going on. the evil parasites running the world want these people eliminated, for obvious reasons. Higher thinking is self-aware. Evil is lower thinking, hence anti-self aware. It is that state it would wish to force on all of us.
2. i interpret that as anti-nature, anti-God. Anti-Logos. What is good and natural at least with regards to the natural world, 'runs like clockwork'. What is evil disrupts and causes everything to fail.
3. the CoE and Christianity in general trains people to be submissive – perfect fodder for the captors. This is easy since these institutions have been infested with the evil ones.

I believe most Christians are so afraid of 'sin' they would never strike back against evil, and this I consider cowardice and immoral (evil). One can embody the values of Christ and still stand up for what is right. Jesus encouraged this in fact.

Many years ago, whilst I was learning raw html, I was bored during my lunch break, and briefly inserted a little bit of raw html into a very busy UK website, which had absolutely nothing to do with my job. I was an IT Professional at the time, and I knew I was breaking all the rules...but it was only a bit of code, and I haven't done it since, and would no longer have a clue how to do it now. It was over 20 years ago. I deleted my code in less than an hour. I might have confessed later. My management most certainly didn't know I did it and it was completely unprofessional. I apologise.

I just wanted to measure the number of people who actually wrote anything on this website, compared to the number of the people who read it. I was completely amazed at the results.

For Every 1 Person who wrote anything

Over 1,000 people were reading it, who never wrote anything.

So don't be shy.

Do not assume, just because little you wrote it..that no one actually read it.

Many thousands of people may have read your words.

The ratio is probably much bigger now.

UK Column News – 9th September 2020

PART ONE

HALT !

No more social gatherings from Sep 14

Coroni is confused because he can't be caught at work, school or a wedding

But he can be caught in a home with more than six people, in a pub or a restaurant.

UKC: This is a massive psychological attack on people's minds to confuse, stress and pressure people to make them easy to push around.

Who is running government — Don't ask MPs. Sorry, they haven't a clue.

PHARM MAKE COVID PLEDGE

They have signed a pledge to make vaccines to sound scientific principles (Interesting, didn't they before?)

Now they promise to:

- Always make well-being of individuals the priority
- Adhere to ethical standards in trials
- Only submit for approval after demonstrating safety
- Offer vaccines to all people worldwide.

ASTRA-ZENECA SUSPENDS TRIAL

The leading, front-running trial has harmed a volunteer.

There has been a suspected serious adverse reaction in a volunteer. AZ doesn't say what happened — it's serious but participant is expected to recover.

UKC: Everywhere we look at vaccines we find these routine accidents. They always say the person will recover but they don't mention what may happen 10 years down the line.

Email from viewer: The story doesn't mention what the reaction is. But if they have no liability and yet they stop, so one imagines it is serious.

Astra-Zeneca also mentions adverse reactions from stage two of the trials: surprise, surprise, they're all symptoms of Covid.

BBC: SALON BANS CORONA TALK

After requesting clients avoid talk about Covid and excusing them from wearing masks — a hair salon earns a visit from the police.

UKC: Brave people are challenging the system. The cabal is clamping down on anyone who contradicts it.

REGIONALISATION OF UK

Dividing the UK is a long-term EU strategy, pursued very obviously under Tony Blair. Now even with Britain outside the EU, there is another massive attack on the (unwritten) constitution.

UKC: No one wants to see massive regional blocs. They want local communities to have influence on policy. Why is EU regionalization policy being pushed through in the middle of Event Covid?

UKC's Alex Thomson says the EU policy is following that of German during WW2. Third Reich printed maps for the future Europe showing the splitting up of England with the southwest carved off as an Atlantic naval base.

FUEN – Federation of European Nations... in German FEUV the V standing for 'people groups' is a long standing German strategy for Europe. This has been pursued by the Congress of European Nationalities and is a continuing and long-term plan to split off races...

In the past Germany has looked at the Arthurian history in Devon, Dorset and Somerset and the independent history of Cornwall and thought it a good idea to hive them off.

Under Edward Heath PM, in 1974 and Margaret Thatcher PM, in 1986 we saw the move towards super-regions and that accelerated under Tony Blair PM, in 2007 with Devolution: this corresponds with an EU policy that creates bodies answering directly to Brussels with the abolition of local democracy.

ADVERTISING "SHOP 4 PLYMOUTH"

UKC's Brian Gerrish: Advertisement calls for people to shop in the socially-distanced, anti-

Covid, safe and sterile city of Plymouth. The sting comes at the end: the video is produced by Plymouth, Britain's Ocean City, with HM Government & the EU Regional Development Fund.

So it wasn't a local advert at all. And we're supposed to have left the EU. So what's going on? And who the hell is Her Majesty's Government? That's no longer clear.

UKC: This is calculated policy to break down the nation state. We have not left the EU. The only good news is the cabal is panicking and they want to push their policies though ASAP because time is not on their side.

ECONOMY TOTTERS

Andy Haldane, Bank of England chief economist, says the UK economy must 'adapt' and that the chancellor should not extend the furlough scheme: "we need to undergo a period of change and people should adjust quickly. Elongating the coronavirus job retention scheme would not allow the process of adjustment to take place".

The Committee on Climate Change said UK is lagging on emissions targets and that a net-zero policy should be imposed on all regional departments and that the public be engaged to tackle climate change.

But if there is no significant change in UK public behaviour it will not meet its objectives.

UKC: well, what is coming to change our behaviour?

Former BoE Governor Mark Carney said companies that don't adapt to the new Green economy will go bankrupt. Those who don't comply would be punished. Thus the BoE policy remains unchanged – ungreen companies will be put out of business.

UKC's Brian Gerrish: There are policies running in the background that have never been discussed with the public: Breaking up of UK into EU regions; Government drive for Climate Change being forced into existence and now they want to get rid of small businesses. The only remaining businesses will be the big global companies.

None of these policies – like closing small businesses – could have been proposed by politicians. It would have been rejected. Someone else is in charge.

SHEFFIELD PROTEST INJURIES

A video shows how violent the police were. A contributor says police were brutal, even frightened. Why so? They must have been ordered to tackle crowds violently. The way they handled a 73 year-old scientist was as bad as any authoritarian country in the world.

Another man called Rob was crushed against a bollard... and it seems it was the police that crushed him. When he fell to the ground, unconscious, he needed resuscitation, which they were slow to offer.

People are dying in police captivity. This has nothing to do with BLM. It is worldwide. This is not the fault of the “bobby on the beat”. The police are being “reframed” by training courses and applied behavioural psychology that is meant to make the police aggressive. Police spouses have confirmed this.

Diversity training seems to be the culprit. MP Andrew Bridgen says he thinks it is the result of brainwashing.

LITTLE BOOK OF GREEN NUDGES

Forty nudges to prompt sustainable behaviour on university campus.

Who is behind it this brainwashing of students? The UN Environment Program, the Behavioural Insights Team, Grid Arendal and Youth & Education Alliance.

GRID ARENDAL – Что это такое?

A non-profit environmental communications centre based in Norway. “We transform environmental data into innovative, science-based information products....

and provide capacity-building services...

with the aim of strengthening management capacity and motivating decision makers to — YAWN — make positive changes.

We collaborate with the — UGH, YAWN — UN Environmental Programme and other partners around the world.

Smiley face.”

Sorry, are you still awake?

Their partners are in the dozens... if not the hundreds. This needs investigating.

YOUTH & EDUCATION ALLIANCE

This is the UN. So it's the UN working with the UN. The Environment Programme.

Accountability and transparency is totally lacking. You just know it's the UN.

But, soft... ... the UN document is written by the UK Behavioural Insights Team. So this body that instructs the UK government is also writing documents for the UN.

PART TWO

CABAL NOT GOVERNMENT

This is not government. It is a bunch of institutions that work across government, across countries and which advise or help to run the international institutions.

This is a pseudo scientific, wannabe technocratic group that imposes agendas upon governments, while people are steered or nudged into what these interest groups want to do.

Behavioural science shows that a nudge into greener decisions can spur environmental action on the campus.

- Resetting default options
- Gentle persuasion
- Framing choices
- Harnessing social influence

All lead to sustainable conduct and an eco-friendly campus.

Nudging is based on the psychology of decision making. Our brains can't make sense of the world – so they use mental short cuts that result in doing what others do, follow ingrained routines or act on autopilot.

With knowledge of these cognitive processes we can make changes to options people have — or explicitly design choices.

BBC MEDIA ACTION

Nazanin Zaghari-Radcliffe who has been in prison in Iran for some years faces new charges. The Iranians accuse her of trying to undermine the state. Thomson Reuters Foundation had claimed it had no dealings in Iran, though she did also work with BBC Media Action.

Some months ago, Boris Johnson made a statement that Nazanin Zaghari-Radcliffe was teaching journalism. The Thomson Reuters Foundation angrily demanded BoJo reversed his statement because the PM had blown her cover — or damaged her hopes of release.

The fact is Thomson Reuters Foundation do the same work as BBC Media Action – training journalists in order to promote civil society. Media development is called, in the Foreign Office, countering disinformation. So it is hard to see how they claim Radcliffe is just a journalist.

Alex Thomson: A journalist observes. A trainer suggests to people what to report.

Maybe it is time to start making claims of medical malpractice against medics involved in this politically-driven nonsense? Actually it is worse than nonsense. It is pure tyranny.

Someone without symptoms constitutes a case of a disease? Since when is that sound medical practice?

The Chinese in early 2020 presented summary reports on their experience. It included notes that the PCR test on its own wasn't sufficient to confirm the diagnosis of symptomatic hospitalised cases, let alone as a predictive test.

I rarely post here, but I have occasionally from at least 2014, and I know that The Saker's website has been Seriously attacked by many denial of Service and Other attacks.

It is happening to Off-Guardian (UK) Now. I do not know where their servers are based..but they have been DDOS'd many times before, and have always come back.

It would be great if the Saker or anyone technically competent could give them some advice.

Meanwhile I tried to post this on their website, and will when it comes back.

"Off-G is now either under a Massive Denial of Service attack AGAIN. or they have got many thousands of People trying to read it at the same time and their Bandwidth is Saturated

It means they are doing well, and it means, I should send them another tenner, and so should you.

Nowt comes for free. Bandwidth is Expensive.

They are not government or ngo funded – just a few private individuals, who got banned from writing in the comments section of The Guardian

No one is paying them to do this. They are supported by voluntary contributions from the likes of you and me.

Wait till they come back and the service is stable again, before you try and send them any money. It's quite easy. Even I have sent them £10 at least twice."

It's All about Free Speech. Political Differences are not important. Being able to speak and be heard is.

Thank You and God Bless,

Isn't choosing Monday the 14th a bit suspect? Surely if a tightening of the lock-down WAS a good idea, then why wouldn't this tightening be done straight away?

Perhaps Johnson and co are trying to sugar coat the pill by giving us all one last chance to let down our hair, and have a bit of a party.

Or perhaps they would just like to have plenty of fresh evidence to parade in their MSM, evidence that far too many of us are disgustingly complacent sociopaths who need locking down for our own good.

All over the world.

From the moment the “scamdemic” was pumped up and primed for people to swallow as the “new reality” it’s been a question of keeping them off balance in a state of perpetual frenzy and fear.

However, as in any war and state of desperation whether it’s from bombing or cancer people start to regain a sense of proportion. It’s noticeable how as the campaign of bullshit has progressed more and more folk are regaining their equilibrium of rational thinking to question the legality of blind obedience to the tale.

The worm is turning, when people start to lose their income, start to feel the pain of not touching their love ones, not feeling free the thinking mind crashes the barrier of bollocks. Naturally, the professional pricks which employ every deceitful dirty despicable tactic they have in their bag knows this hence the buzz words of spike, cases etc but they have in this propaganda campaign overstepped the mark to control the masses.

Next step martial law.

You can add confusion to the frenzy and fear. We generally keep a neat straight track when discussing this scamdemic but the true believers have several versions of the truth

They have to continually change the narrative because FACTS begin to emerge which doesn’t dovetail in with their tale.

Hence the fact that deaths from it, despite all the manipulation of the statistics for them, are falling the new fear factor is cases which are based on a dodgy diagnosis using a not fit for purpose test to reinforce the tale.

However, soon this will be exposed for what it is a fraud. Therefore, when they can’t coerce people with propaganda the big stick will be applied because the stakes are now very high for the transnational financiers.

They have committed a serious tactical error they have openly exposed themselves.

The notion of "conspiracy theories" won't wash to help them. More and more people see the establishment class for what they are PARASITES.

I usually donate blood a couple times a year at my local church, in events conducted by the Red Cross. I've come to believe that it's healthy to refresh the blood in this way every so often. They've just emailed about another blood drive coming up and I'd like to donate since I haven't yet this year. In the email they state that they will test my blood for Covid antibodies and email me the results after the drive. I asked if I could opt out and was told that I could or I could just delete the email. I understand this to mean that they will test it regardless, but I can choose not to look at the results. Which misses the point entirely. Should I just give up on donating blood altogether? I don't feel that my data is safe anymore. But then again, maybe they've already got it from past donations?

Disregard my question, it sounds like you cannot opt out. I've just found this on the Red Cross website: "Antibody testing is performed on all donations made on or after June 15, 2020."

I guess I won't be donating to Red Cross! Will have to find another way to therapeutically drain a pint of blood =)

Forgive my typos. There was something wrong with the site and I couldn't edit.

Giving blood is a giant money making scam. The Red Cross make millions from selling your blood and the Red Cross itself is a fake NGO that was created by the same cryptococracy that are perpetrating this coviscam: Freemasons.

Thanks for the heads up. I did know they made money off the donations, but never looked much further into the Red Cross. I will certainly stop donating to them. I would like to find somewhere congenial to donate, because I believe it's healthy to renew your blood periodically.

Please give up donating blood.

They make millions off donated blood. It's a scam.

Moreover if the test you positive with the fake tests, they can subject your entire family and everyone you care in contact with go a test, and so on.

Did you know that all those vile individuals at the top that magically make it to 100+ years of age have life extending treatments including twice weekly blood transfusions using blood donated by the youngest people possible? When I was a kid, the Hammer horror film based on the TRUE story of a royal who bathed in the blood of her murdered maids was famous and well regarded as a fact based fairytale that warned of the evils to watch for in those that ruled over us. Today the medical establishment laughs in our face as it publishes paper after paper boasting about the efficacy of this treatment they offer to the 'elites'.

Meanwhile, for us plebs, it is DNR orders for ever younger patients- now including every disabled person, and previously healthy people as young as FIFTY. DNR means if you are a previously healthy person with pneumonia or the like, they let you die if you have 'heart failure' or similar sudden life threatening issues with no attempt to rescue you, even though a rescue attempt would be 99.99% successful.

The similarity with the 'health care' system in German in the 1930s is exact. And to the same ends.

However, as bad as things are, donating blood, without a doubt, does some good.

All of these people wearing masks are aiding and abetting in genocide. It is not the right thing to do or a harmless choice. They need to know they are committing a crime terrorising people and causing deaths and illness. Following orders is no excuse.

We were only following orders - Nuremberg Trials...

People need to recognize that fascism is not something alien. It came from their own societies. From the corporations they love. From the brands they treat as friends.

Fascism is ours and if we choose to return to it (and unconsciously, there are many who do) then it shall have been welcomed, not imposed.

Fascism is something corporations do if they are not checked.

It was Western industrial interests that financed Hitler. There is plenty of well-researched evidence from primary sources. See Antony Sutton's 'Wall Street and the Rise of Hitler', Edwin Black's 'IBM and the Holocaust', Rodney Atkinson's 'Europe's Full Circle', Adam Lebor's 'Hitler's Secret Bankers' and anything by Eustace Mullins. The German industrialists are covered by Pool, James; Pool, Suzanne (1978), Who Financed Hitler: The Secret Funding of Hitler's Rise to Power, 1919-1933

I've always believed fascism has been with us, partially hidden, just out of view.

Because we've never participated in our "democracy" and voting is a token gesture, to legitimize an illegitimate system and hinder public revolt.

Corporations have controlled wars, militaries, governments and households, and those corporations are in direct partnership with central banks, so we've been living under fascism for at least a hundred years.

We just never recognized it as such, because the soldiers weren't on "our" streets.

It was a war of stealth, on us.

It gets worse. A new report looking at deaths in France comes to the conclusion that all the excess "covid deaths" were actually the result of lockdown, not any particular virus.

The report examines all mortality deaths in France every year since 1946. The evidence is well laid out and compelling. And France is no outlier when it comes down to lockdown and deaths in April.

See for yourself. You can download the report in pdf from this website page:

I kind of predicted this would happen, so prepared for it...

"Boris Johnson says he wants EVERYBODY in the UK to be able to take a coronavirus test EVERYDAY" – before he started going on about "A new 'moon-shot testing' approach"

I have bought one of these temperature testing guns direct from China £3.99. It was delivered in less than 2 weeks for another £3.99. Still that is less than £10 , and it works.

I have pointed it at myself – armpit works best, and tested it against a traditional British thermometer – and it gives the same results. and I have even tested it on my wife, and it gives the correct temperature, which I find quite impressive.

It might work on Boris Johnson too. He might be brainwashed, but I think he is human. My wife has even seen him. She wasn't planning to, but he just happened to be there, whilst she was doing her shopping during the last election. She didn't vote for him

The acid test will be Matt Hancock.

I suspect it won't register on him at all.

I think he is an illusion.

Just a 3D hologram or maybe a Virtual Alien
