The Israeli-U.S start-up that wants to patent aerosol geoengineering technology

Israeli-U.S. start-up, Stardust Solutions, has described its plans to develop and commercialise a highly controversial solar geoengineering technology.

What is this group hoping to achieve?

CONTROLLING THE WEATHER

Stardust, a shadowy Israeli-U.S. start-up, is developing (<https://www.wired.com/story/a-mysterious-startup-is-developing-a-new-form-of-solar-geoengineering/>) "proprietary aerosol technology" to 'block sunlight' and artificially 'cool the planet'.

The company, founded in 2023, is backed by military-linked venture capital and former nuclear scientists, operating with zero transparency.

Critics warn the unregulated experiment could disrupt weather across the world, destroy agriculture, and violate international environmental laws.

A Mysterious Startup Is Developing a New Form of Solar Geoengineering

Stardust is preparing to unleash an untested solar aerosol test within a year, despite no public oversight, scientific consensus, or democratic approval.

The company's ties to Israeli intelligence and defence agencies raise concerns about geopolitical weaponisation of climate control.

Stardust's CEO, Yanai Yedvab (<https://csl.noaa.gov/seminars/2024/Yedvab.html>), is a former deputy chief scientist at the Israel Atomic Energy Commission, an agency notorious for overseeing the nation's covert weapons program. The company's chief product officer, Amyad Spector (<https://thebulletin.org/2025/03/reach-for-the-> stardust-former-israel-atomic-energy-commission-official-leads-controversial-geoengineering-start-up/, is another physicist plucked from Israel's weapons research apparatus.

Stardust's primary investor, Awz Ventures, is a Canadian-Israeli venture capital firm with deep ties (https://www.cbc.ca/news/politics/stephen-harper-fadden-israel-awz-cybersecurity-1.5989054) to Mossad, Shin Bet, and Unit 8200 — Israel's most secretive intelligence agencies. Awz also funds Corsight AI, a facial recognition company supplying surveillance tech for Israel's theatre production (https://tottnews.com/2023/10/25/arab-israeli-con-flick/) (war) in Gaza.

With 25 physicists, chemists, and engineers on staff — many with military-industrial backgrounds — Stardust is not a benign climate saviour, but a rogue operation (https://undark.org/2025/03/17/stardust-geoengineering-profitable/) masquerading as environmental innovation.

How One Company Wants to Make Geoengineering Profitable

Janos Pasztor, Stardust's former climate governance consultant, admitted (https://www.msn.com/en-us/money/companies/what-a-new-hire-for-a-u-s-israeli-company-says-about-geoengineering/ar-AA1o5GHC) the company lacks a "social license" to conduct such experiments.

In a damning report, Pasztor urged transparency, but Stardust has ignored these pleas, refusing to publish research or engage with the public.

Stardust's actions would violate the Convention on Biological Diversity, which imposes a de facto moratorium on geoengineering. Yet, like a modern-day Dr. Strangelove, Stardust marches forward, unshackled by ethics or consequences.

As Duncan McLaren, a researcher at American University, warns: "There is potential for this to be a highly undemocratic process of moving us down a slippery slope to solar geoengineering."

Indeed, if such a practice is allowed to continue to fly without any oversight or attention from the international community, then humanity faces a very interesting road ahead.

As the mad scientists play 'weather gods' and endanger us, and the planet itself.

RADICAL SOLAR GEOENGINEERING

Solar geoengineering, the deliberate manipulation of Earth's atmosphere to reflect sunlight, is not theoretical. It is a criminal conspiracy against nature, an untested planetary-scale experiment that could trigger irreversible ecological collapse.

Stardust's plan involves dispersing proprietary aerosol particles via aircraft-mounted machines into the stratosphere — a process with no long-term safety data, no democratic oversight, and no accountability.

In 2022, The White House Office of Science and Technology Policy (OSTP) announced a five-year research plan to study solar geoengineering, officially bring the 'conspiracy' to mainstream research.

White House to proceed with solar geoengineering study

A five-year 'solar management' atmospheric study will be undertaken, as scientists look to introduce more 'radical solutions' to hit climate targets.

Since then, the stories have continued, as researchers all look to get in on the action.

Scientists explore solar geoengineering using 'diamond dust'

Radical geoengineering researchers have proposed releasing millions of tonnes of 'diamond dust' into the atmosphere to 'reduce global temperatures' and 'fight climate change'.

How China Uses Geoengineering to Pursue a Hybrid Warfare Strategy

But where will such untested and unregulated experiments lead us all?

History is littered with the wreckage of human arrogance.

Now, a secretive cabal of scientists and military-industrial profiteers seeks to hijack the sky itself, gambling with the fate of every living creature on Earth.

This is not climate science; it is military-grade weather warfare disguised as environmentalism. To be used against nations at will.

The radical mad scientists continue to push ahead with these programs despite the known risks that could be caused to the planet and many societies.

Solar geoengineering may impact food production, cause conflict

A new study has modelled just how solar geoengineering could adversely impact different parts of the world, leading to changes in crop production and even potential political conflicts.

Meanwhile, in Australia, politicians continue to pretend these practices don't exist.

The question remains: Will humanity stand by as a rogue corporation decides the future of our planet — or will we rise to stop this madness before it's too late?
